

What is a digital piano?

1. A digital piano is first and foremost - A PIANO. A digital piano has the high quality sound and touch of a concert grand piano. The difference between a portable keyboard and a digital piano is in the number of keys, pedal options, weighted action and tonal quality
2. A digital piano has hundreds of real live instrument sounds used for creativity and fun. These include real live instruments such as guitar, strings, vocal and flute.
3. A digital piano has an on-board arranger with real live band and orchestral arrangements from country to gospel or polka to big band. Easy play features like one-finger play enable even a beginner to sound good!
4. A digital piano has a disk drive which serves as a music tutor to help you practice and learn to play. Music books of all styles and genres are available for students playing at any level. You can also record and save the music of your friends and family on a floppy disk.
5. A digital piano is an entertaining piano with built in karaoke. Fun for the entire family!
6. A digital piano never needs tuning and is equipped with headphone jacks for silent practice as well as MIDI connections for computer interface.
